

Saving Proposal Drafts

Overview

- All changes to your proposal will auto-save; if you need to navigate away from the page before you submit your proposal – and need to access your draft later – you can find that at Curriculum > Drafts.
- Proposals will be sorted by the order in which they were created – not the date edited – with the oldest at the top, and the newest at the bottom..

Listed Information

Name

The course or program title associated with the proposal.

Title

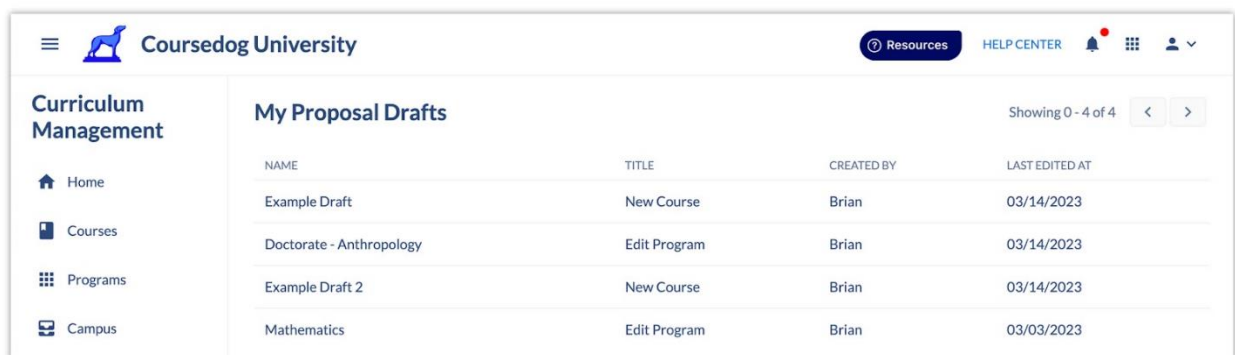

The type of proposal (e.g. New Course, New Program, Edit Program, etc.).

Created By

The author of the request.

Last Edited At

The date the proposal was last updated.

NAME	TITLE	CREATED BY	LAST EDITED AT
Example Draft	New Course	Brian	03/14/2023
Doctorate - Anthropology	Edit Program	Brian	03/14/2023
Example Draft 2	New Course	Brian	03/14/2023
Mathematics	Edit Program	Brian	03/03/2023

The table also includes a 'Showing 0 - 4 of 4' indicator and navigation arrows.
